

STUDY TOUR 2015

Olivier Chazoule
Director of Studies

The essence of our Study Tours is to offer a total immersion into the world of Wall Street, over a period of time that fits your schedule. The New York Institute for Business and Finance offers several options of half days, one day, or two day study tours. Each formula is obviously adaptable to best meet your needs.

Each of our Study Tours works to provide you with a total experience on Wall Street that introduce several components. Conferences will allow you to reflect in the areas of finance , law , management of business , on issues such as the financial system in the United States and insider trading ... You will discover Wall Street by visiting major financial institutions, seemingly mythical places of founders of the global financial capital, hedge fund visits, banks, and large law firms. An exchange with professionals permitted by meetings with bankers, lawyers , professionals from the world of Wall Street, who will speak at conferences and discussions.

And, still, you'll find places in New York and Wall Street to discover, with free time to visit , shop , attend shows and exhibitions ...

Each element combines with the others to create a unique experience on Wall Street. You will find this in our brochure and more descriptions of the content making up the different facets of our institute.
